TO THE READER.

THIS is the five and thirtieth year of our appearance in the World in this Annual way, which we may now continue so long as it pleases God to prolong our days. The World well knows, and very true it is, that we are arrived to a very considerable Age, and our sight is much decayed; But, thanks be to God, we continue, and enjoy our Reason and Understanding perfectly well, and can therefore with the assistance of our Friend and constant Amanuensis Mr. Henry Coley still perform the work effectually——

How the affairs of Europe stand at present, (viz. October, 1678.) and how the General State thereof may be carried on in the year 1679. this brief Epistle, and the subsequent Astrological Judgments and Observations may in some measure discover; or at least so much thereof as may be rationally conjectured or predicted from the Celestial Configurations of those Glorious Bodies the Planets, (which doubtless were not created only to be gazed at as some vainly suggest——)

We in England, also Scotland and Ireland live in Peace (which we pray God long continue.) The Emperour of Germany, the King of Spain and States of Holland in union, the Emperour now in Arms against the French King; the King of Spain and States of Holland have lately concluded a Peace with the French Monarch, though to the dislike of the Confederates; the Dane and Sweed still at War; the Danes joyn with the States, and the Sweed with the French King; the Isle of Rugen lately taken by the Danes and Brandenburgers from the Sweeds and Finlanders with very small loss, and the City of Stralsund inclinable to accept of the offers made by the Confederates, viz. to make it a Free City—— Stetin long since after a long and tedious siege surrendered to the Elector of Brandenburg—— Messina quitted by the French, and now again subject to the King of Spain, with many other overtures fresh in every bodies memory and two tedious to be repeated here; and now what in all probability may succeed this year, 1679. we refer the Reader to the following work——

In our Anglicus, 1678. many remarkable Accidents, which happened both at home and abroad, were exactly by us prediſſed—— as has been carefully observed by many curious persons, and we hope well, and expect the same success in this—— Yet we pretend not to Prophesie, they are long since ceased; nor to an absolute infallibility, or fatal necessity, but a modest conjecture grounded upon the Rules of Art and experience, and this we hope no rational person can quarrel at—— God preserve our Three Nations in Peace and Unity, and bless his Majesty of Great Britain with a long and prosperous Reign—— Amen.

In the ensuing Discourse according to our usual method, we have deduced many Judgments and Observations from the principles of Art, and applied them variously as we see cause, without the least reflection upon any person, or scurrilous Language given, and so we resolve to continue during life.

Astrological Judgements

And Observations for the Year 1679.

By William Lilly Student in Astrology.

In Dei Nomine incipio!

WE are now arrived to the year 1679. wherein great things are expected to be transacted in Europe: But before we come to (discourse) — write hereof, we will premise these necessary Præcognis- Mutationes inferiores subjiciuntur superioribus; ideo sagaciter per similitudinem & analogiam oportet indagare actiones & significationes corporum Cælestium. i. e. Sublunary mutations being subject to the Influence or Disposition of the superior Bodies, we ought prudently to indagate (or search out) the secrets, mysteries or intentions thereof by similitude and analogy of the Heavenly Bodies, which can never be performed without the Assistance of Astrology (which in these days many pretend to largely, but few rightly understand,) It is an Art which was long since defined thus, viz.
Astrologia est Doctrina quæ ostendit vires stellarum cognitæ perpetua experientia, & qualitates, temperamenta & inclina-tionis in Elementis, & corporibus hominum, ortas à luce & motu stellarum, quibus qualitatibus, temperamentis & inclinationibus respondent suæ quedam Actiones, nisi aut Divinitus, aut aliis causis fortioribus impediuntur. Or more briefly thus, as Sir Christopher Heyden hath it, "Astrology is an Art
"which teacheth by the Motions, Configurations and In"fluences of the Signs, Stars and Celestial Planets, to Prog-"nosticate of the Natural Effects and Mutations to come in "the Elements, and these Inferior and Elementary Bodies.

Astrological Judgments.

All that have hitherto writ against Astrology, nor the greatest adversary living can deny this definition, nor answer Sir C. H's Defence of Judicial Astrology: This Definition contains not only the causes that concur to the constitution of the Nature and Essence of Astrology, but also expresses the end, or final Cause whereto all the precepts of the Art are referr'd. 'Tis divided into two parts, the one Speculative or Theoretical (viz. the Astronomical part.) The other Practical (or the Astrological or Judiciary part.) The first Teacheth and Directs us how to know the Stars and Planets, and to find their places and motions, &c. The second part Directs us to the knowledge of the Influence and operation of the Stars and Planets upon sublunary Bodies, and without this last the former part is but of little use or advantage, even as an Herbalist may attain to the knowledge of the Names only of most Flowers, Herbs and Plants he finds growing, yet without farther search and inspection into Physiology he can give no account of (or describe) their Vertues, no more can Astronomy direct, or inform us of the secret Influences and operations of the Stars and Planets, without the assistance of the most sublime (though much abused) Art of Astrology. For Astronomy is conversant about the subject of this Art, and doth furnish the Artist or Astrologer with matter whereon to exercise his Judgment; but Astrology disposes this matter into Predictions, or rational Conjectures as occasion requires.

The practick part is again subdivided into two parts, as Ptolomy lib. 2. Quadrip. declares, The first considers the general State of the World, and from Eclipses, Comets, Great Conjunctions, Annual Revolutions, Quarterly Ingresses and Lunations; also the Rising, Culminating and Setting of the Fixed Stars, together with the configurations of the Planets both to the Sun and amongst themselves, judgment is deduced, and the Astrologer doth frame his Annual Predictions of all sensitive and vegetative things, living in the Air, Earth or Water, of Plague, Plenty, Dearth, Mutations of the Air, Wars, Peace and other general Accidents of Countries,

Astrological Judgments.

Provinces, and Cities, &c. The second of these subdivided parts, is particular and respects only the private state or general fortune of every singular Man and Woman, which must be performed from the Scheme of the Nativity, the knowledge of which is of most excellent use to all persons of what degree, or quality soever: Therefore let the Nativities of Children be diligently observed for the future, that is to say, the day, hour, and minute of Birth as near as can be, which will be of good use to the Astrological Physician; for the most principal conjecture of the Malignity and Magnitude of any Disease, whether it be Cureable, or shall end with Death depends upon the knowledge of the Nativity (if it may possibly be obtained) and very rarely any Disease invades a person, but some unfortunate Direction of the Luminaries or Ascendant to the Body or Beams of Malignant Planets preceeded the same, or did then operate, or at least some evil Revolution, Profection, or Transits, which cannot be discovered by any other way but by Astrology, & nulla fides adhibenda medico nisi utatur Astrologia. Moreover it would be convenient that the true time of the Decumbiture, or first falling sick be observed precisely, and by that together with the Nativity judiciously compared, the Physician shall gain more credit than by all his other skill. And herein the Astrologers foresight shall often contradict the judgment of the Physician. For when the Astrologer foretells a Phlegmatick man that at such a time he shall be afflicted with a Cholericke Disease, the Doctor will perceive by his Physical Symptoms, the Astrologer from his knowledge in more secret causes in Nature hath excelled him in his Art. Astrology is more certain than Physick, for it reasoneth from the cause to the effect, and so doth not Physick: Now if God Almighty do not countermand or check the ordinary course of Nature, or the matter of the Elementary Bodies here below be not unproportionable and thereby unapt to receive their impressions, there is no reason why in a Natural and Physical necessity, Astrological Predictions made according to Art should not succeed and take effect; and by how much the knowledge which we have by the known causes is more demonstrative and Infallible, than that which we have either by Signs or Effects, so much by this Comparison doth Astrology appear worthy to be preferred before Physick. Cardan who was an excellent Physician saith, if by the Art of Astrology he had not better attained to the knowledge of his Disease than the Physician that would have administered unto him by his skill, he had assuredly been cured by death, rather than preserved alive by Physick. Vide comment upon Ptol. Quadrip. From hence it appears it is necessary the Physician should be skillful in Astrology, but on the contrary, ex quolibet ligno non fit Mercurius, every Astrologer cannot be a Physician. If the Nativity be but precisely known, or if but Tempus oblatum, or suppositum, and withal some notable Accidents as Sickness, danger of Drowning, peril by Fire, Imprisonment, Marriage, or other the like accidents good or evil be observed that thereby the Nativity may be rectified; then no question but so many accidents as may be foreseen, so many evils may (at least in part) be prevented, and those things are called good adjuvated by a prudent man.

But this is very true, that many times, even the best of us, when we endeavour to avoid dangers approaching, by a certain kind of necessity we run headlong into them, quicquid patimur mortales, quicquid facimus, venit ab alto. Regitur satis mortale Genus, saies Seneca. Multi ad fatum venere suum dum fata siment. Now if any person be so rigidly obstinate as to deny the operations and secret Influences of the superior Bodies upon us, and condemn and undervalue that he understands not; let him (if able) make experience of himself, or trust one that can with his Nativity, and he shall confess his error, and acknowledge the wonderful power of God in the Government of the world by the Celestial Bodies. 'Tis true that many superstitious and gross absurdities are practised by the ignorant under pretence of Astrology, (which take it in its purity is a most excellent Art.) But this ought not to be charged

Astrological Judgments.

ed upon the Art but the Artist. For by how much any Science or Learning is more excellent or sublime, by so much the more easily it is abused, Quid Theologiâ præstantius? Quid Divinius? and yet in all Ages and parts of the world there have sprung up new Sects and Novel opinions in Religion, full of Superstition, Abuses, and Heresies; Is it not so at this day? Is it not so in Law, Physick, and other liberal and free Studies? Nulla harum est Artium quin suis mendis & abusibus sit reserta.

One great objection by the Antagonist is, That Astrology is unprofitable, and the good or evil foretold by the professor is not necessary to be known. This would be granted, if there were such an absolute necessity in the Influences of the Stars, that we could not in some measure change or correct them: Therefore the Art is highly profitable and expedient, that thereby we are enabled to foreknow the decrees of the Heavenly Bodies; that so if they be Bona, we should not be elevated with an unexpected felicity, and if Mala, that then we might fore-arm our selves and beware of them, for prævisa minus lædunt. The Author of the Centiloquium saith, Potest qui sciens est. He that is skilful may divert many effects of the Stars when he knows their Natures, and will prepare himself before their event or coming. Aphor. 5.

These things being premised, we proceed to the Judgment upon the Suns ingress into Capricorn, and from thence make observations upon the Winter-Quarter in general.

Si deus nobiscum, quis contra nos; At the time of our writing, viz. September, 1678. the general affairs of Europe (after many great Consultations and Indeavours carried on from time to time with great judgment and prudence) begin to appear in a very hopeful posture; much talk there is of an Universal Peace, and no less desired. God grant that those worthy persons now labouring in so great a work, may put a happy period, and final determination to all differences, or Animosities now depending, that so there there may be no more effusion of Christian blood, nor ruine of whole Countries and Families—

But we proceed to the consideration of the Figure of the Sun's ingress into the Tropical Sign Capricorn, from whence we shall deduce our Judgment Astrological for this Winter-Quarter; not omitting to inspect the Schemes of the Lunations that happen from the Eleventh of December, 1668. to the tenth of March, 1679. as also the most forcible Aspects of the Planets in the said Quarter, and something of the Conjunction of Saturn and Mars in Gemini, July the last, 1678.

In the Scheme we find the Angles mostly fixed, Saturn and

and Mars rule the principal Angles, viz. the Ascendant, and Mid-Heaven, and the Luminaries and Venus have most Dignities Essential in the North and West Angles. In the Figure of the New Moon preventional, the Angles are all Bi-corporal, or double Bodied Signs, and no less than five of the Seven Planets Angular; Saturn is posited near the cuspe of the tenth, and Jupiter located in the seventh House of that Scheme. But that which appears most remarkable and worthy our notice in this Ingress is the angry (not envious) Planet Mars in Conjunction with that violent fixed Star of the first Magnitude, called Cor Leonis, in the seventh, whence notwithstanding all indeavours for Peace, and to settle and compose differences, 'tis very much to be feared that either the Souldiers now in Arms in several Countries of Europe, will grow headstrong and imperious, and from some Dissatisfaction taken may in all probability be too subject to Mutiny; or some unhappy Action break forth in those Countries East from England, unless by the care of their Officers and Superiours prevented; for Mars in the seventh in a Sign of his own nature, ever portends rash Actions or accidental Mischiefs strangely and sometimes unexpectedly fomented in one kind or other——

Authors have written, if in the figure of an Annual Revolution of the Sun, (viz. his Ingress into Aries) Mars be posited in the seventh House thereof, (which is the same, or very little different in any other Ingress as here into Capricorn——) Malus & damnosus, significans inimicitias & discordias magnas; accident hominibus furta, interfectiones ac contentiones multe & rixe in illo Anno, &c.

In an Ingress, or Figure of an Annual Revolution of the Sun wherein we find Mars seated in the seventh House, we may assuredly determine his position in that Angle, to be of evil Influence, or Male-signification, and therefore greatly to be disliked. For he therein doth threaten breach of Leagues and Friendship, great wranglings, many Controversies, abundance of Thievery both by Sea and Land, much Blood-shed and Slaughter, many times without just occasion given, or unnecessary Quarrels to little or no purpose. We in England shall be free from most of these Calamities: But those ungrateful people who have neither Fidelity in their promises and pretences, nor Reality in their Treaties or Negotiations may expect to suffer, and that most justly——

Yet considering that Mars is beheld by the Benevolent Trine of Venus and also by the Sextile of Saturn (who is in Reception with Mercury) we therefore hope that much of the evil threatned will be prevented, or suddainly qualified before any considerable Mischief be effected: and this the more probable since the season will not admit of Action. The Position of Jupiter in Pisces in the second, and the Moon in Aries Intercepted therein, defluxing from a Quadrant of Mercury and applying to a Trine of Venus, Sextile of Saturn, and Trine of Mars, doth not only intimate the late, and present Consultations and Debates in order to a hopeful settlement of the grand Differences of Nations and Kingdoms, which are now near a long hoped for conclusion—— but the same Position portends the approaching flourishing condition of the people in general; especially those who are Inhabitants in the Countries under Aries and Pisces, and such places subject to the Fiery and Watery Triplicities, viz. England more especially; France, Germany, Polonia, Denmark, Spain, Portugal, Normandy, &c. cum multis aliis—— for loca in quibus fortuna inveniuntur, & loca quæ ipsæ aspiciunt, significant bonum secundum Naturas earum. Those places wherein the Fortunes are posited, as also those whom they friendly behold, to such they signifie good according to their Natures; if so, then let the Inhabitants in general who live North and North East from England expect to flourish and be made happy for a time, and enjoy themselves with much more quietness and freedom than of late years they have done; to confirm which, Haly writes, Si quando Jupiter fuerit in secunda Domo receptus, & fortunatus, significat quod Populus habebit multa lucra, bonam vitam & largam, & maxime erit bonum in rebus que que sunt de natura signi in quo fuerit, pag. 370. And further, si fuerit Luna in secunda Domo & fortunata, lucrabuntur homines multum, & habebunt profectum de suis substantiis & Redditibus, &c.

The things and persons naturally signified by Jupiter, Origanus sets down thus, viz. Ad Jovem res Politicæ & Ecclesiæ, Divitiæ, Justitiæ, Leges, Gloria, Commendationes, Beneficia: Item viri honorati, Cardinales, Episcopi, Theologi, Cancellarii, Jurisconsulti, Judices, Senatores, & Primarii urbium, &c. And hence from the Position of Jupiter in this Ingress all such persons should be much esteemed and advanced (if their own particular fates contradict not.)

Saturn Locally in the fifth House should also be considered (he being principal Ruler of this Ingress) in opposition to Venus, and Retrograde in the Sign Gemini. This doth not only portend or threaten the death of many hopeful Children, to the great grief of their Parents, but also many Miscarriages and Abortions this Quarter amongst Teeming Women, which Judgment may be verified in many places, but in particular in and about the City of London, to the great detriment and prejudice of many of the Female Sex. Much Debauchery privately acted this Quarter, whence many Surfeits and other dangerous Diseases are procured to the utter ruine and destruction of many persons of both Sex.

And further it may be observed that most of this winter Quarter will be spent (amongst the Grandees of Nations and Kingdoms) in Councils and serious Consultations, there being now plentiful matter to insist upon; and several Nations and Countries of Europe (and other parts of the World) concerned therein——

Now a through examination and strict Inspection will be indeavoured into the former Actions and subtle self ended contrivances of many eminent persons, who have had great power; and notable discoveries made, which have long lay Dormant. Friendship profered unto many on purpose to ensnare or Trapan them; dubious matters, and full of variation, may suddenly be converted either unto good or evil.

The late Coniunction of Saturn and Mars in Gemini a double Bodied Sign shews some Accidents to come in the world, according to the Judgment of Hermes Aphor. 51. Oportet futura considerare à Coniunctionibus Planetarum, et sine vero vel præteritum à separationibus eorundem. We should consider or draw our Judgments as to Accidents, or Contingencies to come, from the Conjunctions of the Planets, but things past or present, from their separations. This Aphorism is certainly of great use in Astrological Judgments concerning the general Affairs of the World, and considering the aforesaid Coniunction fell in Gemini, ergo res dubias significat: Ambiguous Transactions in the general Affairs of the World must therefore follow, sometimes men act like men, and sometimes more like monsters: Peace and Leagues amongst Princes seemingly concluded, and too frequently again dissolved—— The Month of January affords much variety of matter, many are the Configurations of the Superiour Bodies in that Month, which may stir up active Spirits to just Actions, also some Plots or secret Contrivances plainly discovered, of which more in our Monthly Observations.

We have already seen something of the Effects of the forementioned Coniunction of Saturn and Mars in Gemini the Ascendant of London, an Airy humane Sign, viz. People are generally afflicted with Fevers, Agues, Gripings of the Guts, Surfeits and other dangerous Distempers both in City and Country, whereof a greater number die than was usual, and not only in England, but in several other parts of Europe, and some places in Asia (as is more particularly express in our Gazetts.) God preserve us from a more raging and devouring Disease!—— which from the observation of natural causes may very well be feared—— Protolomy lib. 2 Quad. writes the Nature of Saturn and his signification thus, accident hominibus infirmitates de frigido & sicco, &c. Saturn produces or stirs up many Infirmities in men men proceeding from dry causes, whence they are subject to Agues, &c. He also influences the spirit of Lying and Contention between man and man, and from thence Actions of very dangerous consequence too frequently follow— of Mars he writes thus, Mars ciēt in bella, seditiones intestinas, captivitates, excidia urbium, populi tumultus, principum iras, &c— Mars discovers or is the significator of Wars, Intestine Divisions, Imprisonments, Besieging and taking of Towns and Cities, of Popular Tumults, the Anger or Wrath of Princes (or men in great power and Authority) many persons will be made away suddainly, many beheaded, violent Diseases, Eruptions of Blood, unusual or violent suddain Deaths of Young-men, violence, Injuries, Burning of Houses and Towns, Murthurs, Rapins and Robberies: and in the Air he stirs up poisonous Winds and disperses Thunder-bolts, Hailstorms, Droughts, suddain Shipwracks, and great Tempests at Sea from violent or extraordinary Storms and Tempests— And thus you have the natural signification of these two Planets single, and what good Effects can there be expected from their congress or meeting— many hundreds in Europe can by sad experience testifie the forementioned Effects of Mars, from all which let us pray Libera nos Domine.

As to the Diseases of this Quarter, they will be many, and such chiefly as arise from the Corruption of the Bloud, but those Diseases will be the most dangerous, which proceed from Phlegm, as Quotidian Feavers, and the less dangerous such as deduce their Original from Choler, as the Tertian. Now those Diseases that usually attend this Quarter are Catarrhes, Distillations, Pleurifies and Inflammations of the Lungs, Tumours, Rheumes, Hoarsness, Coughs, Pains of the Breast, Headachs, Vertigo's and Apoplexies. Those winter Maladies are usually durable, but sometimes changed according to the various Constitution of the season and the precedent Temperature of the year.

Lastly, as to the Inclination of the Air we Conjecture a Remission of Cold, and thereby a far warmer Commixture of

of the Air than the nature of the season requireth, and so much the rather because Mars is in Leo with Cor Leonis in the seventh House, and thus we proceed to the Consideration of the Spring Quarter.

ables all things eternally by his Providence, having left to Man but a Glympe of Prescience, and that strangely clouded and obscured, by which natural Knowledge we may be so far instructed, notwithstanding, as to discover in part— But to our matter; In our vernal Figure (which we come now to consider) we find a very notable position of the Heavens—— And we are commanded by Authours when we consider the general State of any People or Kingdom to beware—— Bonatus, page 528. saith, Cui Climati præsit quilibet Planeta, & scire esse illius, quoniam accidentia universalis Climatis erunt, secundum quod fuerit esse Planeta qui præsit ei, & participabit cum eo Dominus Anni, & Dominus Ascendentis, Revolutionis, & Dominus horæ illius. i. e. Have respect to the Planet that governs every Climate, and know in what state he stands; the general accidents of that Climate shall be according to his existence, the Lord of the Year shall partake with him, and also the Lord of the Ascendant, and the Lord of the Hour. 'Tis not to be questioned but all Students in Astrology will acknowledge, Aries is the Sign, and Mars the Planet to which Great Britain is subject. In the vernal Figure, Mars is in the fiery Sign Leo, in Trine to the Sun in Aries, and no less than three Planets (besides Cauda Draconis) in Englands Sign, a position not contemptible, but of eminent Signification—— Who knows not but the English are no Strangers to Actions of War, having been many Years accustomed thereunto, and gained much Honour thereby, and therefore will be very unwilling to be curbed, checked, or baffled by any neighbour Nation whatsoever; nor will they suffer Laws to be imposed upon them contrary to their native humours, and Customs, but resolve to perform all their Actions with Courage and Honour: Therefore it is not the Potent Monarch of France, with his numerous Army, (so much talked of) nor any other Foreign Prince that can affrighten our Superiours and Governours from the performance of Acts of Justice, Valour, and Honour. Whence let those Persons whom it may concern, observe this Astrological and

Astrological Judgments.

Cabalistical Judgment, that any Person of what Nation, Degree, or Quality soever, that shall attempt an Invasion, or to bring in a Foreign Army amongst us, to destroy, or bring us into slavery; We predict they shall assuredly fail of their purpose, and never attain their desires, but perish in the very design. For it has been said, that the Kingdom of England is not ordained until the worlds end, to be any more conquered; we shall give, but not receive Laws.

In the Scheme of the Suns Ingress into Aries, we have Gemini, a common Sign, ascending, and Saturn upon the very degree thereof, also Mercury, Ruler of the Ascendant, in Pisces his detriment, and the Moon in Quartile to both the Fortunes Jupiter and Venus; and in the preventional New Moon, Gemini ascends, and Saturn (who rules the Mid-Heaven in both Figures) is posited in the Ascendant also—The Wise Men of old did very diligently consider what Planet had most essential Dignities in the Ascendant of the Figure aforesaid, and therefore must not be neglected by us; and in regard, that at the Suns Ingress a common Sign ascends, we must frame another Figure for the Autumnal or Winter Quarter, or point of time the Sun enters Libra, and sometimes, as occasion serves, we may also consult the Position of Heaven at the Suns Ingress into the tropical Sign Cancer, not neglecting in our judgment the serious consideration of those Eclipses of the Luminaries that fall in order. As this Year, the first Eclipse of the Sun (though invisible to us) is celebrated near the degree of his exaltation, March the 31th. about seven at Night. The second Eclipse of the Moon, (which will be some part visible to us) falls April the 15th. the middle time thereof at 46. min. after 10. at night, and the digits eclipsed 5. The third Eclipse of the Sun happens September the 24th. about 6 afternoon, not visible to us. And the 4th. and last Eclipse, is of the Moon, October the 9th. about 11 in the Morning, inconspicuous in our Hemisphere—yet notwithstanding they may have their Effects in many places of Europe,

Astrological Judgments.

though not so forcibly as in such Parts or Countries in the World, where they may be seen— The Premises being well considered, import thus much, that, for the most part, during the time of this Revolution, we shall have very serious Consultations of high Concernment, tending to the settlement of Affairs, and probably of putting our selves in a posture of defence, though we hope there may be very little danger of Action, between us and any other Nation or people, yet a general fear possesses the minds of Men, and we shall have Rumours of Wars, and hear of preparations of Armies in several Parts of Europe, also private or silent murmuring at the present management of Affairs, and yet the most intelligent Persons amongst us will scarce be able to discover the true ground thereof, only the Influences of the Heavens stir up Mens minds to distempered humours, without just cause, and, in all humane probability, it is like to be as prodigious as to Acts of War in some Parts of Christendom, as deceitful in the underhand Negotiations of a pretended Peace— But, in plain terms, there appears so much intricacy, dissembling Actions, and treacherous Consultations, that 'tis almost impossible to predict whether the subtle Peace-maker, or Martialist will prevail; Yet so far as may be rationally conjectured from the Rules of Art, and the consideration of the present juncture of Affairs, the most material Configurations of this Year do give rather hopes of a happy Peace in the European Kingdoms, than a continued War, which Judgment is to be understood to take place amongst those People, who suffer by the sad Effects of War at present. God grant a happy Peace and Union may be settled amongst them. But to proceed in the farther Consideration of the vernal Figure, Authours say, Aspice in Revolutione Anni Dominum Ascendentis, &c. In every Annual Revolution behold the Lord of the Ascendant; and if you find him weak or debilitated (as here Mercury in Pisces) it declares the Evil he portends to fall upon men or places, subject to the Sign ascending— Et si fuerit Gemini, &c. the Country, or City subject to Gemini shall suffer damage by high Winds, Corruption of the Air, be afflicted with many Sicknesſes in their Intestines, Lungs, and Tongues, &c. And that which is moſt conſiderable, is Saturns Poſition in the Aſcendant, of which, Guido Bonatus ſays, Significat ibi maiorem multorum hominum cauſa debiti vel Terrarum, they ſhall ſuffer much by the decay of thoſe Perſons with whom they have intruſted their Eſtates, for ſuch Men ſhall prove Bankrupts; and as Saturn is poſited in Gemini, accident hominibus infirmitates, &c. Men ſhall be ſubject to ſuch Diſeaſes and Infirmities which proceed from melancholy, or from cold and dry Cauſes; they ſhould be alſo contentious, much addicted to Lying and Diſſembling, as alſo to Rebellion and Mutiny; and farther, he writes, ſi Saturnus fuerit in Gemini, vel eius triplicitate, ſignificat quod quicquid ſignificaverit, ſive bonum ſit illud ſignificatum, ſive malum, ut plurimum apparebit Occidentalibus. If Saturn be in Gemini, or the airy Triplicity, whether then he ſignifies good or ill, for the moſt part his Signification appears Weſtward. Whence we may conclude, that what ever is ſignified by Saturn in Gemini will be manifeſt in the Weſtern Parts of England, in reſpect of the whole Kingdome, but in relation to the City it points out the Weſt parts thereof, and in all probability, the moſt conſiderable Actions of this Quarter may appear in and about the City of London.

From the Poſition of Saturn as to the Season of the Quarter, we may expect a cold Air, cool gentle Winds, nipping Froſts, alſo ſeaſonable Showers of Rain—but as unto Mankind many Diſeaſes not eaſily cured, as alſo a Murrain in great Cattel; and as he is now poſited he influences diſtempered Minds and Affections in men alſo—From Plots and ſecret Conſpiracies, libera nos Domine. Albunazar ſaith, accident in Regionibus que fuerint in diſiſione Signi in quo cum fuerit Saturnus, ſuch Accidents as are ſignified by Saturn ſhall ſhew themſelves in thoſe Regions which fall under the diſiſion of the Sign wherein Saturn is. And many are the Countries, Provinces, and Cities ſubject to the Sign Gemini, (viz.) Lombardy, Brabant, Flanders, ders, the West and South parts of England, chiefly the West Parts of Wales. Of Cities under Gemini, are attributed London, Bruges, Louvain, Norimberg, Corduba, Hasford, Mentz, &c.

But this Judgment is much alleviated by other happy positions (for there is no general Aphorism but may admit of exception) We have the Moon excellently well placed in her own essential dignities in the second House—— and the Sun, Jupiter, and Venus in the eleventh, which gives us good hopes; for 'tis said, if in a revolutionary Figure the Sun be posited in the eleventh House, significat bona & gaudia multa Genti illius Climatis, & utilitatem habebit unus cum alio, & amabunt eos sui Reges & Domini, & majores custodient ipsas, & eis bonum facient, & mercedem solvent. Many good things are signified to happen to the People of that Climate, one man shall have much profit and benefit from another; their Rulers and their Lords shall love and cherish the People, their Officers and chief Rulers shall preserve them in safety, and free from danger. Another says, accidet Populo bonum ex magnatibus qui sunt infra Reges. Those who are in degrees next under Kings, and are Men of great Power and Command, shall do the People much good; we heartily wish this Judgment may take place and be fully verified——

Again, Saturn is Ruler of the ninth House, disposed of by Mercury who is in Pisces his fall and detriment, whence we may judge, (amongst other Affairs) many inconsiderate Counsels, rash and unadvised Actions, during this Spring Quarter; also some loss or detriment to the provident and industrious Merchant; But the most general actions appear in Treaties, and the endeavouring to make Peace betwixt Nations and People; Many judicious Agents are employed to mediate between the Emperour and Turks, the Emperour and Hungarian, Swedes, Danes, French, Dutch, Princes of Italy, and other States of Europe, and yet we fear no answerable success, or full performance of such Articles which may be made——

Astrological Judgments.

The Position of Saturn also threatens the East and West-Indies with much Piracy, many Robberies, and seizure of Ships, Men, and Merchandise, or danger in their Tradings for some few Months, either by Piratical damages, or some other sudden and unexpected Casualties——

The Diseases of this Spring Quarter are like to be, acute Feavers, much Sweating, and Corruption of Blood, Surfeits, Small Pox to an high degree, Great Pox, Gonorrhæas, Consumption of the LUNGS, Strangulation of the Matrix, Megrim, Stone, and Strangury, bloody Fluxes, Ruptures of all kinds, also violent Tertian Feavers; and many Robberies in the North, and North East Roads, which will certainly be much infested with bold Hectors, High-way Men, and Vagabonds— As to the weather, we may expect great variety thereof, violent Showers, frequent Thunders, with sudden Hail-storms, much to the prejudice of the tender Fruits of the Earth——

As to the Eclipse of the Sun in Aries, his exaltation, the last day of March, a little after Sun-set, (and therefore not visible to us;) We say it portends some notable Effects not only in England, but France, Germany, Denmark, Swedeland, and some other Parts of Europe. The Planet Mars is chief Ruler of the Eclipse; he is generally the cause of Corruption, and here the more dangerous, being posited in Leo, a fiery Sign— the Events appertaining to Men, are Wars, Seditions, Intestine Risings and Tumults, Imprisonments, Banishments, popular Tumults, the besieging and taking of Towns and Cities, the frowns of Princes upon divers of their Subjects; whence several Men of Note are suddenly called in Question, and many of them lose their Heads—— As to Diseases, signified hereby, or naturally portended by such a defect—— they should be Tertian Feavers, acute Diseases, Corruption of Blood, &c. Many Thefts and Robberies upon the High-ways, Law-suits, Duels, &c. In the Air he stirs up hot pestilent Winds, strangely infectious, Droughts, Thunder, Lightning, and Whirlwinds; But in regard this Eclipse is not visible to us,

Astrological Judgments.

we hope we have the less Cause to fear its Effects amongst us—— 'Tis said, when the Sun is eclipsed in the last ten degrees of Aries, it portends in the general, Lamentation, Woes and Mourning unto most sorts or degrees of Men, and sometimes the Death of a noble Lady; unto which may be added the death of the smaller sort of Cattel, as Sheep, Conies, Goats, Hares, and such like— but considering Venus is chief Ruler of the Ascendant, these dangerous Effects portended by Mars will be very much abated by her gentle Influence——

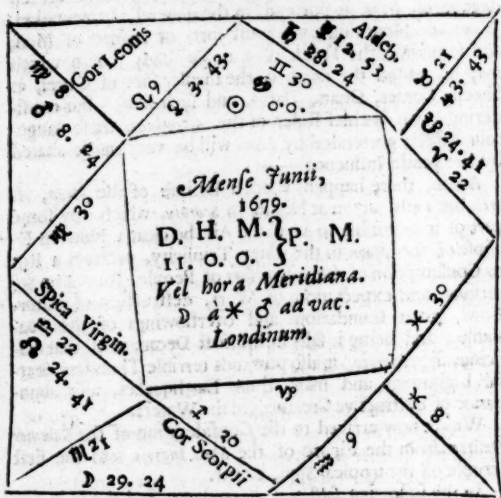

Again, there happens another Eclipse of the Moon, April the 15th. at ten at Night, in Scorpio, which may some part of it be visible to us if the Air be clear; Now an Eclipse of the Moon in the watry Triplicity, presages a Rot or Consumption of the vulgar sort of People, Rumours, Seditions, and expectation of Wars, destruction of water-Fowl, great Inundations and overflowings of the Sea-Banks; and being it falls in the first Decanate of that malicious Sign Scorpio, it also portends terrible Thunders, fearful Lightnings, and many times Earthquakes, also abundance of destructive Creatures in the Waters.

We are now arrived to the Consideration of the Summer Quarter from the Figure of the Suns Ingress into the first scruple of the tropical Sign, Cancer.

In the following solstitial Figure, we find the very latter degrees of double bodied and common Signs ascend, and culminate, and consequently Cardinal Signs just entering upon the four Angles, all the Planets (except the Moon) are posited above the Earth. The Sun is just upon the Meridian, near a partile Conjunction with Saturn, and in Sextile to Jupiter, Venus is in a fixed Sign, near the Cusp of the eleventh House, in Quartile to Jupiter in the eighth. The Moon is just leaving the Sign Scorpio, wherein she is debilitated, and entering that regal Sign, Sagittary. Mars is in Virgo upon the very Cusp of the twelfth, there in Square to Mercury, and Trine of Jupiter.

The Full Moon postventional follows within two days after

cum Aestivum.*

the Ingress, and the Luminaries are in Opposition from the Tenth and fourth Houses, in that Scheme the Angles are all Cardinal and Moveable Signs; Mars is posited in the sixth, and no Planets Angular, but the Luminaries as aforesaid— From these positions of the celestial Bodies, we may rationally predict, that this Quarter may produce many Rumours, as if the present State of Affairs generally in all or most Kingdoms of Europe should suddenly alter, and new Contentions arise amongst some of the Princes thereof, various suspicions in the fancies of Men, and probably a full discovery

Astrological Judgments.

discovery may be made of the occult designs between one Nation and People, and another, which hitherto hath been with much policy concealed: but notwithstanding all fears and various reports, we have great hopes from this Solstitial Figure of Peace and Tranquillity in all or most of the principal Nations of Europe, but more particularly in his Majesties Dominions of England, Scotland, and Ireland— For the Sun, who generally signifies the most eminent Persons of Nations, as Kings, Princes, chief Rulers, Governours, principal Magistrates, &c. is now posited in the Angle of Honour, and therefore doth manifest their Fame, Reputation, and Honour, their Glory and Dignity during this Quarter, which cannot be attainable without the performance of Acts of Grace for their own Subjects, and their endeavours to compose a Peace, and right Understanding betwixt Neighbour Nations— But some may object that Saturn is also in Conjunction with the Sun, in the Midheaven, and in Quartile to the Ascendant—— and may therefore frustrate the greatest hopes promised of such splendid actions as are portended by the position of the Sun aforesaid; To which we answer, true it is, that Saturn in the tenth House, though never so well posited or dignified, yet he ever influences more or less mischief; for generally those persons represented by him act their Parts with much subtilty, and underhand-Dealing, by tedious Counsels and Consultations, covetous designs and self-ends— Now in our Figure Saturn (as well as the Sun) signifies eminent Persons both for Quality and Office, and intimates, that in the Courts of Princes (or wherever such matters are debated or in agitation) though some Generous and Heroick Spirits do act their Parts with all sincerity to put an end to publick Differences, and to settle a Peace and Unity between Nation and Nation, yet at that very time there shall be some Person or Persons amongst them, that out of some private design of self-interest, shall, most subtilly, endeavour to sow Tares, or convey or cast in the seeds of Division, which may very much protract (if not totally overthrow) throw) so hopeful an Enterprize— to the great dissatisfaction of many Honest Hearts.

But considering also that Venus is Lady of the Ascendant, and virtually in the Mid-heaven, let matters go how they will in other Nations, we have great hopes of Tranquillity and Continuance of Peace in England, and a happy Composition of Differences; for Venus in decima significat gaudium ex Rege, & ex parte Regis, i. e. The Subjects of this Nation shall have great cause to rejoyce for their King, and for Acts of Grace done unto them by him— and further, 'tis said, significat extinctionem bellorum atq; contentionum, vel saltem eorum mitigationem & infirmitatem, & mortalitates in partibus Orientis, & erunt alacritates, & delectationes in rebus venereis, & maxime in divitibus & magnatibus, nisi contra operatur Mars. i. e. When Venus is Ruler of any Quarter of the Year, and Lady of the Ascendant, Wars, and Contentions then seem at an end, or at leastwise there is a mitigation, if not total suppression, of them, and all Controversies; not so many Sickneses happen to Mankind as were expected, and it seems to give hopes of the Conclusion of many difficult Debates and Controversies then under consultation, especially in some remote Parts from England, probably Poland, Muscovy, Sweden, and some other Countries adjacent. We hope it may determine so well, that for some considerable time there will be no more mortalities, or captivating the poor Christians in those Parts; Much cheerfulness and mirth, feasting and sporting amongst the richer sort of People, (viz.) the Nobles and Grandees of Nations, unless Mars in the Figure portend the contrary, which here he doth not. Origanus speaks the same thing in effect, Page 477. Venus in decima, Status Regni erit tranquillus & florens, &c. The Body of the State or Kingdom shall flourish, or be in Tranquillity, if Venus be posited in the tenth House. But Haly Fol. 372. is more particular, and says upon the aforesaid Position of Venus, Erit Populus in bono statu, & contiget ei bonum à suis Regibus & Dominis, & illi qui habuerint Dominium & Imperium in hominibus nibus erunt bonæ Legis, & religiosi, Factores boni, & Reges diligenti & honorabunt Focatores. (viz.) The condition of the common People seems good, and there will happen unto them much goodness and content from their Kings, Governours, or Magistrates over them; They seem to be religiously inclined, of good Government, and actors of good things; The Courts of Princes will be much inclined to Mirth and Jollity——

In the Scheme also we find Mars in the twelfth House in Square to Mercury in the Ninth; whence it may be feared, that the Roads and High-ways will be too frequently haunted with Thieves and Robbers, to the detriment of many Travellers, who may be so unfortunate as to fall into their hands— But though Mars be Lord of the Third, and in Quadrant Aspect to Mercury, yet he is beheld by the friendly Trine of Jupiter, which shews, during this Quarter, there may not be so much mischief done in this kind as at other times or seasons of the Year, nor may we expect so much danger in June, July, August as some former Summers have produced. Venus is in Leo (though in Quartile to Jupiter) which is the reputed Ascendant of Italy, Rome, the Alps, Turkey, Sicilia, and divers other places, and what good Effects She portends from her present position, those Countries may also participate of this Summer Quarter—Faxit Deus.

In the Month of June (viz. on Midsummer Day) Saturn removes out of Gemini into Cancer, and doth not thereby only shew notable Alteration of the Air about that time, but also it denotes, or signifies the death of many Aged Persons, and in all probability of some one particular Person, eminently known in the World, and of no small Quality; which those that are curious may be pleased to observe——

As to the Diseases of this Quarter, we hope they may not be many nor dangerous. (If no epidemical Distemper afflict us) Then such diseases arising from the infirmity of the Liver, Inflammation of the Lungs, also Pleurifies, Imposthumes in the Stomach, Squinckies, Catarrhs, Windiness, and and Corruption of the Blood, Surfeits, Scurvy, Gonorrhœa, French Pox, Fits of the Mother, and such like, may be the most predominate this Quarter; and thus we hasten to the Consideration and Judgment of the Autumnal Quarter.

Positus Cæli ad Ingressum Solis in Libra, & Aequinoctium Autumnale.

The Scheme of the Full Moon preceeding this Ingress, differs little from this, having the same Sign ascending and almost the same degree, and therefore we shall ground our Judgment wholly upon this Figure for the general Accidents of this Autumnal Quarter ————— The

Astrological Judgments.

The Angles are fixed and common Signs, no Planet angular, and therefore no material action may be expected in September, October, November. h is weakly posited near the Cusp of the eleventh, in the Sign Sc , in Trine to J , Mars is essentially strong in the 3 House, but in Opposition to V . The Moon in her exaltation separated from an Opposition of Mars, and Conjunction of Jupiter, and hastens to the Opposition of Venus in m her detriment; Mercury, Lord of the Ascendant, is near Caput Draconis, and the Virgins Spike, but stationary to Retrogradation, with other circumstances, which we may consider in the following Judgments.

God direct Mens minds to require Justice, and their Superiours to incline thereunto— Mens minds are various, humane Actions many, and those of different natures— But from the several Configurations now imminent, and most of them benevolent this Quarter; we may therefore hope well, and expect many deliberate Counsels, and solid Conclusions now in agitation. The Moon is in Conjunction with Jupiter, and posited in Taurus, her exaltation, and a fixed Sign, which denotes the safety and prosperity of the People in general, both in their Bodies and Estates, which we pray God continue; But as the Moon lately separated from the Opposition of Mars, we may therefore rationally conjecture, that the minds of the vulgar have been somewhat disturbed, or corrupted with seditious thoughts and discontents; also great fear of War daily expected, or much repining at the Souldiery, who are generally thought by the Country too burthensome and uneasy unto them— and as the next application of the Moon is to an Opposition of Venus, it shews therefore small probability of any sudden amendment, but rather a continual grumbling and dissatisfaction, also repining against the Edicts of Superiours and Governors— But the Merchant will, notwithstanding all dangers, be blessed with hopeful Returns, although he may be a little fearful of damage at Sea, by Piracy, high Winds, and tempestuous storms: The Position of the Moon and Jupiter in the Ninth, intimates no less but safety in the end,

end, and their Position in the Ninth in opposition to Mars shews the danger they may undergo at Sea— And all things being seriously considered, we conceive his dangers may be many, but his fears more than his loss— We have hopes that the sorrows of Mankind shall be abated, and by degrees quite taken away, also Controversies and frequent differences amongst eminent Persons in the World shall cease, at least for some time; but we fear they may break out again afresh, notwithstanding the endeavours of good spirited Persons to preserve Peace on all sides— The Position of Jupiter in the Ninth in Opposition to Mars, shews, some differences may be debated in Religious Affairs, or some eminent Clergy Men, or Lawyers strangely opposed, and those their endeavours may be to elevate themselves, or settle Religious Matters or Ceremonies, and this by force rather than gentle means, or the Command of those in Power and Authority. The same Position also portends disturbances shall arise either amongst, or rather against, the Religious Party (of what sect soever,) some oppositions they must expect to meet with, perhaps more than ordinary this Quarter, and prosecuted vigorously by Authority, and yet they should remain resolute and willful in their greatest troubles and afflictions—

The Position of Saturn in Cancer doth something concern us in England, in that he casts a Quadrant Aspect to the Sign Aries; but his Influences or Effects may prove more considerable to Scotland, Holland, Zealand, and the united Provinces. Saturn is said to be the general significator of Labour, Disturbances, Anxiety, Melancholy, Poverty, Envy, Treachery, Malice, Disgrace, Unthankfulness, Self-ends, breach of Leagues, &c. let those Countries concerned look to it—

The Counsels of Princes from their own reason, and the genuine and natural significations and influences of the heavenly Bodies, are rather inclined to Peace and Tranquillity than War and bloodshed, Invasions, Mutinies, and such like; and herein we intend Europe in general, more particu-particularly England, Sweden, Polonia, Denmark, France, Germany, Spain, &c. But the actions of this present Year, 1679. do not wholly depend (Astrologically) either upon these Quarterly Ingresses of the Sun, or the several Lunations and Eclipses, but the Effects of the late Comet, as also the grand Transits and Conjunctions of the superiour Planets should with them be considered— of which we have not been unmindful in this our general Judgment, as also in the monthly Observations— And to sum up all in few words, we find more of Consultation than Action like to be during the whole Year. Many sudden and sharp Counsels generally on foot, and the generality of Mankind too frequently repining (and sometimes plotting and contriving mischief) against their Superiours, we fear this Quarter may prove more sickly than most expected, and thereby afflict many People with such tedious and unnatural Diseases, which may too often non-plus the most able and learned Physician— The greater sort of Cattel, as Horses, Oxen, Cows, &c. should stand moderately well this Year in the general, but the smaller sort will be more subject to Diseases, especially toward this Quarter we fear a Rot amongst Sheep, and some dangerous disease amongst Hogs— which here we intimate by way of caution; Corn for the most part should bear a good price, especially Wheat and Barley, and consequently Malt will prove a good Commodity, Coals will not advance much, but continue at a reasonable price, and the latter half of the Year rather fall than rise, if our long Experience and Observations fail us not—

We might in our Astrological Conjectures of this Years Occurrences, have given many other material hints which we silently pass by— but [Senesco] we are grown old, and unwilling to give the least occasion of offence in these ticklish Times; nor is it convenient for us to be loquacious, or too publick spirited, lest we produce disturbance in our Old Age, as we have often met withal in our younger years, and we know habent sua Fata, & Regna & Homines, &c. but— Sed que supra nos, nihil ad, nos—

Nibil difficilius quàm de futuris veritatem predicere.

WE have hopes the New year may begin most happily! notwithstanding all fears and various reports to the contrary— If ever serious Counsels and Consultations appeared in Europe, certainly now is the time; and we may be confident great things are now in Agitation— The year is not only ushered in with a New Moon, but immediately after Jupiter leaves the sign Pisces and makes his Ingrels into the sign Aries, the Ascendant of England; through which sign he makes a very suddain passage, which is the more remarkable, and in a natural way portends as suddain and quick Actions, also Prosperity and Grandeur to the English Nation. One Nation is now for Peace, another inclines for War, a third for Neutrality— but most to Tranquillity rather than War— Strange and variable Actions may be produced this Month, but of what kind time will best demonstrate, for, nemo particularia predicat. Complaints and Accusations ready to break forth against men in power or high places, which may be of dangerous consequence to their Persons or Estates, or both, sub judice lis est. Some eminent person either Ecclesiastick or Legal, now or near this time leaves his imployment, or stoops to the Grave— Various uncertain Weather, with scandalous lying Libels or Pamphlets emitted, more or less to the Months end.

THE Heavens seem yet to Bless our Nation with a hopeful continuance of Peace and Tranquillity— Many differences and debates in general Affairs of Kingdoms, &c. which have continued long in dispute, now near, or in a very fair way of Composure, for Saturn and Mercury are Stationary to Direction— The Souldiery in some Countries remote from England after many Disgusts and Discontents between them and their Officers or chief Commanders, are moderately well pleased for a time— Preparations are making both at home and abroad for Sea Affairs— Many losses, and those considerable, have lately happened at Sea to the great Affliction and Discouragement of those worthy Merebants and other persons of no mean quality concerned therein. New Leagues, Articles, Counsels now in prosecution take up much time before they are brought to a final Determination— We fear an appearance of unhappy Discords or Divisions, but they may not break out into Action some considerable time— A languishing Disease afflicts some Aged great persons of Europe, mors impragnatarum in multis terris. Many Law-suits of great concernment now depending, which will not in any short time be ended: great complaints of Poverty, uneasie Impositions, and Taxations, also many conflicts amongst great persons in divers Countries. May England continue in Peace and prosperity, as we hope it will, and let the Spirit of Division be transported from us into the remotest parts of the world.

THE Weather is moderately seasonable about this time— and we live in daily expectation of a better understanding of the Intentions and Designs of the most great and active Spirits of Europe, who hitherto have very much concealed their Resolutions: We say now there is greater hopes of unity in Counsels and Consultations both in England, France, Germany, Denmark and other Countries adjacent— especially about the former part of this Month. God continue it! Mars becomes Direct in Leo, and Venus Transits Englands Sign, and therein comes to a Conjunction with Jupiter, therefore we may hope well, since there is no Male or Hostile Influences now depending over us. The Position of Saturn indeed so near the Ascendant in the Suns ingress into Aries this Month, and the Eclipse of the Sun near his exaltation at the end hereof, though invisible to us, demonstrates a sickly Spring, but since no other misfortunes are directly portended, let us patiently submit to the will and pleasure of the Almighty—

Hopeful News or Intelligence arrives now or near this time which may conduce to the Advantage of our whole Nation, and in particular as well for the adventurous Merchants, as for the publick good of all his Majesties Loyal and peaceable Subjects. The Turks may be a little troublesome to their Neighbours for a time— The Corsaires of Tunis and Algier sufficiently Active, many Addresses arrive from Forraign Parts— God preserve our three Nations in Health, Peace, Prosperity and safety! & nunc— & in sempiternum.

THE Month begins with the Benevolent configurations of the two superiour Planets with Mercury, from good places of the vernal Figure; and afterwards they meet by friendly Aspect— which still gives us great hopes that new Leagues are still agitated, or old ones farther confirmed— Also a strong inclination in most of the European Princes for Peace, and the continuance thereof— although some Male Agents secretly endeavour the contrary by their subtile insinuations. We hope providence may frustrate their designs and totally spoil their indeavours. Honourable preferments about this time conferr'd upon some worthy and deserving persons either of the Ecclesiastical or Legal Function, or both— Also hopeful Intelligence arrives, to the great satisfaction of some drooping Spirits— Several Missives, Agents, or Ambassadors now or near this time from some of the Princes of Europe appear with their Addresses and Congratulations to his Majesty of Great Britain. The most Christian King carries on his Affairs with much Grandeur, and no less secrecie, and something suspects (perhaps not without cause) the reality of some of his Confederates. The wary Hollander reasonable well satisfied for a time, the Spaniard afflicted with Sicknes and other casual Disasters, The Emperour is still Active— Notable Rumours and strange reports, with grumbling and repining amongst the Common people in many places of Europe. Seasonable weather the most part of this Month, but some considerable alteration may happen towards the end thereof, perhaps Thunder or Corruscations in the Air upon the Quadrant of the Sun and Mars, which also may afflict a valiant Martial Commander—

SOME persons who have been fraudulent actors in their trusts imposed in them, are now or near this time most justly disgraced, degraded and laid aside. We have yet no other grounds but to conjecture that the great Affairs of most Princes of Europe tend to Unity and Concord. God preserve the famous City of London and her worthy Citizens, from dangerous Diseases or other Casualties—— May now and ever that eminent City be blessed with quietness, also Trading and Commerce answerable to its splendor and magnificence as in the days of old—— Saturn (after a two years Transit) is now hasting out of Gemini, her Ascendant, and we hope may leave no considerable impression behind in our Metropolis of England, yet strange Distempers and sicknesses manifest themselves in England, viz. violent pestilential Fevers, Quinzies, Small-Pox, Measles, &c.—— Heavens divert the Turks near this time from inflicting farther mischief or vexation upon the Pollander or any other of the Emperours Countries—— The Commonalty in many Countries who have of late years suffered much, and many of them ruined and undone, they begin to be something satisfied, and hope well after a tedious and long-ing expectation for better days—— The visible Eclipse of the Moon the midst of the last month may in a short time shew its Effects. Much Gallantry now in France, about this time, but how they and we stand affected, time will best discover.

THE Configurations of the Celestial bodies this month are neither many nor very remarkable; that which most deserves our notice or observation is the motion of Saturn out of Gemini into Cancer, and the late Transit of Jupiter out of Aries into Taurus, a fixed Sign, whence we have great hopes of considerable alterations tending to a firm Peace in most parts of Europe, obtained by the industry and indefatigable pains and inducements of persons Ecclesiastical, and other sober, grave Worthies employed for that purpose. We say there is great hopes, if the Animosity of some great Prince of Europe prevent not so happy an undertaking; sudden hopes have often times as sudden alterations, high disputes are frequently managed with strong Arguments—Nobilium & principum virorum vexationes. The Nobility and Gentry of many Countries seem vexed at their present condition—Bonum est timere, yet those that covet more than providence hath assigned them, may sit down with loss and repent their folly. Mars has now left the Sign Leo and entered into Virgo, and Sol has lately passed the Conjunction of Saturn at his entrance into Cancer. Many Accusations are brought against some persons, and Death puts an end to all Controversies in others—Bonum esse autorum bellorum, & eorum Consiliatorum & portatorum armorum causa garrulorum, & eorum qui querunt injuriam, & abscissores viarum. It falls out well for some who have been Fomenters and Counsellors of Wars or such as have born Arms, and for such persons who regard not justice, such as Thieves, Pirates, Robbers, whence is intimated that in such Countries where Peace is not yet confirmed and settled, the Souldiers Plunder and do what they please.

MANY are the Configurations of the Planets this Month, whence divers overtures in Mundane Affairs may be expected, for we find multitudinem Negotiatorum, cum tremore tamen atque timore. We discern many Negotiations designed to compose the present differences, not as yet concluded, but those employed seem to enter upon the work with fear and trembling, &c— But this hath no relation to the condition of England, which we hope will no way participate of those miseries which have, or may afflict some Countries remote as well as those nearly adjoining unto us— Erunt inter homines deceptiones & falsitates multa, & accident interfectiones multa, & predationes. There will be much juggling and many falsities amongst men, there will be many Murthers, Robberies, or stealing of Goods and Cattel both from rich and poor— We hope still for the best, England receives good Intelligence from remote parts, his Majesties Allies of Great Britain seem in a better posture of compliance than formerly, notwithstanding all contrary reports—

The Affairs of Poland require serious consideration, they are in danger near about this time of some Rupture which may be attempted by the rude Tartars into their Confines if not timely prevented, therefore let their Rulers beware of Variance or Animosity amongst themselves— Strange news arrives from Turkit, and from Italy, and probably from Rome of the death of some great person, perhaps the Pope (an aged man) of which we will not be positive—

The Month produces much variety of weather (the season considered) whence it may be feared unwelcome news arrives from the North or North-West parts of damages by contrary Winds to divers Ships, but not all belonging to the English Merchant.

AUGUSTS Observations. 1679.

THE Planet Saturn is now in Cancer, and Jove in Taurus, the Heavens seem to smile upon the affairs of Ireland, and all things succeed well in that Country—— unto which so many flye for refuge—— But we fear clandestine Consultations may be somented in Scotland, and Holland, and those Countries adjacent, if not timely prevented, or some unhappy Distemper break forth amongst them, for those people are hereby menaced with some Epidemical Disease, or unusual overflowing of the Sea Banks, which may do much mischief—— However, at this time not much talk of Warlike actions, but rather many serious Negotiations on foot, and Ambassadors employed therein, also a seeming compliance in all, or most Nations—— An eminent Lady in great perplexity of spirit, and many Quarrels arise concerning Love-matters, &c. Fornicationes multe mala exinde. Yet about this time some great Marriage consummated. Aus Caesar aut nihil! some mens Honours eclipsed, others strangely advanced; Most Nations now consulting their future happiness, as well as present peace, various Counsels concerning ancient Priviledges, and many Controversies now in agitation betwixt some European Grandees: But (if the Stars fail us not) our English Nation remains in great splendour, and the King of Great Britain hath many assured Testimonies of Tranquillity and Welfare. Several goodly Ships richly laden thortly expected home, and preparation making for setting forth of others, to the Southwards, and South East Parts. The Weather is seasonable and we have great hopes the Season may prove moderately healthful, notwithstanding many fears to the contrary. E

THis will certainly prove a Month of much business, wherein many serious and long-winded debates will take up the Counsels of the most Generous Spirits of Europe, for the several Configurations of this Month will afford plentiful matter to work upon — Various Reports arrive from most Parts of Christendom, which, in the general, are very good; great hopes we have that those many Consultations, and active Endeavours of such Worthy and Prudent Persons, now employed for that purpose, may produce good Effects, in the Composure of the grand differences of the Present Times, throughout Europe. 'Tis observable that the Planet Mars is now in that fixed treacherous Sign, Scorpio, the most vicious of all the twelve, and there in opposition to Jupiter, which manifests Superlative Actions now upon the Stage; And old matters seem to be called in Question, Informations, Impeachments, Accusations, & quid non? Those that shall be found guilty, must expect considerable punishment, viz. Imprisonment, or loss of Estate, Detrimentum patietur omne quod est ejus. If not loss of all they have. But most of these Actions should appear beyond Sea, or in some Countries not far remote from England, sudden hopes, and we fear as sudden alterations! The Sun towards the end hereof is Eclipsed, though invisible to us, yet may produce notable Effects, and, in all probability, multitudo Pluviarum, abundance of Rain, or many Showers, with Storms and Tempests, other notable Configurations of the Planets concurring.

THe many configurations of the preceeding Month, produce matter enough for the actions of this, whence the consultations now in agitation, are not much inferiour to those of the former, and we hope to as good purpose — Here falls an invisible Eclipse of the Moon in Aries, which notwithstanding, may operate as well upon the Temper of Mankind, as upon general matters in the World — Male-contented Spirits about this time too busy to foment ambiguous and false reports, of very ill consequence; yet the great troubles and afflictions of many people, who have most severely suffered both in their persons and estates, do now begin to abate — Missives, Agents or Ambassadors from several Parts of Europe congratulate England's Monarch, and endeavour to increase friendship with Him; Also Honour conferr'd upon some deserving Person, who is excellently well qualified for the same — to the general content of most men — But there are now a sort of people in being, in or about the City too subject to discontent, and repining without just cause, and thereby frequently molest the sober Magistrate, though they smart for their follies and disobedience — some slight Aspersions cast upon an eminent Clergy-man; not much to his dishonour, and towards the Months end we may expect to hear of some eminent Marriage of two great and worthy Persons in England, or in some country joining near unto it — But hoc in mense Mulieres habebunt Labores, & rixas cum sociis suis, & Maritis —

M*Ultus timor in pluribus Terris, sed paucus in-* terfectio : In many places men are in fear of danger approaching, but notwithstanding we have great hopes there is but little ground for such jealous-ties, or suspicions—— Notable things may now be had in Consultation in Spain; also the Emperour of Germany seems very active and vigilant in preventing many inconveniences he apprehends may arise in some Parts of his Empire. A great part of this Month is spent in Counsels, and most judicious contrivances, vigourously managed, still tending to the reconciliation of Differences yet depending; and most Persons principally concerned, being almost wearied out with long expectations, seem willing to agree, and comply with any reasonable proposals.
 Very serious Negotiations now on foot, and about this time the Grievances and complaints of the distressed in many countries, are taken into consideration, also divers enormities regulated—— the Monarch of Great Britain is near this time made happy by several welcome intelligences of the Gallantry, and noble Deportment of his Subjects both at Sea and Land, to the Honour of the English Nation——
 The weather proves seasonable and calm for the most part, and the Month concludes with hopeful successes of the English Merchants Ships every day expected from several Parts of the World.

THE year draws near to an end, and yet the troubles and distractions of many Countreies in Europe are not concluded! This month is ushered in, or begins with an unhappy Opposition of Saturn and Mars from Tropical Signs, whence a-bundance of mischief is threatned both at Sea and Land, occasioned partly by unseasonable weather, or by Treacheries, Mutinies, Combustions and other Immoderate Actions. Deus avertat Judicium! Many lying Intelligences, and false Reports are rumoured abroad this month, still Differences lye under debate, and one cross follows upon the neck of another—— Ill news arrive in Holland of the dangerous Casualties of their Ships at Sea, and many losses thereby if God in his great mercy prevent it not—— The Diseases of this season which afflict mankind may be Impostumations in the stomach, Phthisicks, rotten Coughs, Dropsical Humours, Dysenteries Wind, Colick, French-Pox—— At this time more than ordinary Matters, either in Counsel or Action—— All seems not well composed and quiet in Flanders, we fear heart-burning and new divisions with strang Animosities may unhappily break out. Much Detriment if not subversion of some Sea Town near thereunto, by violent Inundation of water. The good Angel of God direct all his Majesties Affairs this year and ever, and give him victory over all his Enemies, Amen. Vivat & floreat Rex Magne Britannie Carolus Secundus!
